ELEVATE YOUR STYLE

While elevate is defined as, and most-often used to mean, "to move higher in rank or status," it is also defined as, "to raise the spirit."

Purely Personal uses
*elevate to raise your spirit by expressing who you are.

This is why a star is placed at the center of my logo. I believe your style must come from your heart.

As a professional stylist I seek to raise your spirit by bringing out your individuality, your

I love what I do and I look forward to working with you.

Ramona Bryan has over thirty years of experience in women's clothing. She is an expert at defining and bringing-out the individual style of each of her clients. Ramona believes that a wardrobe or style does not have to be full of expensive, high-end clothes. A few foundational pieces of good quality can and should mix with treasures found on sale, at discount stores, or vintage finds.

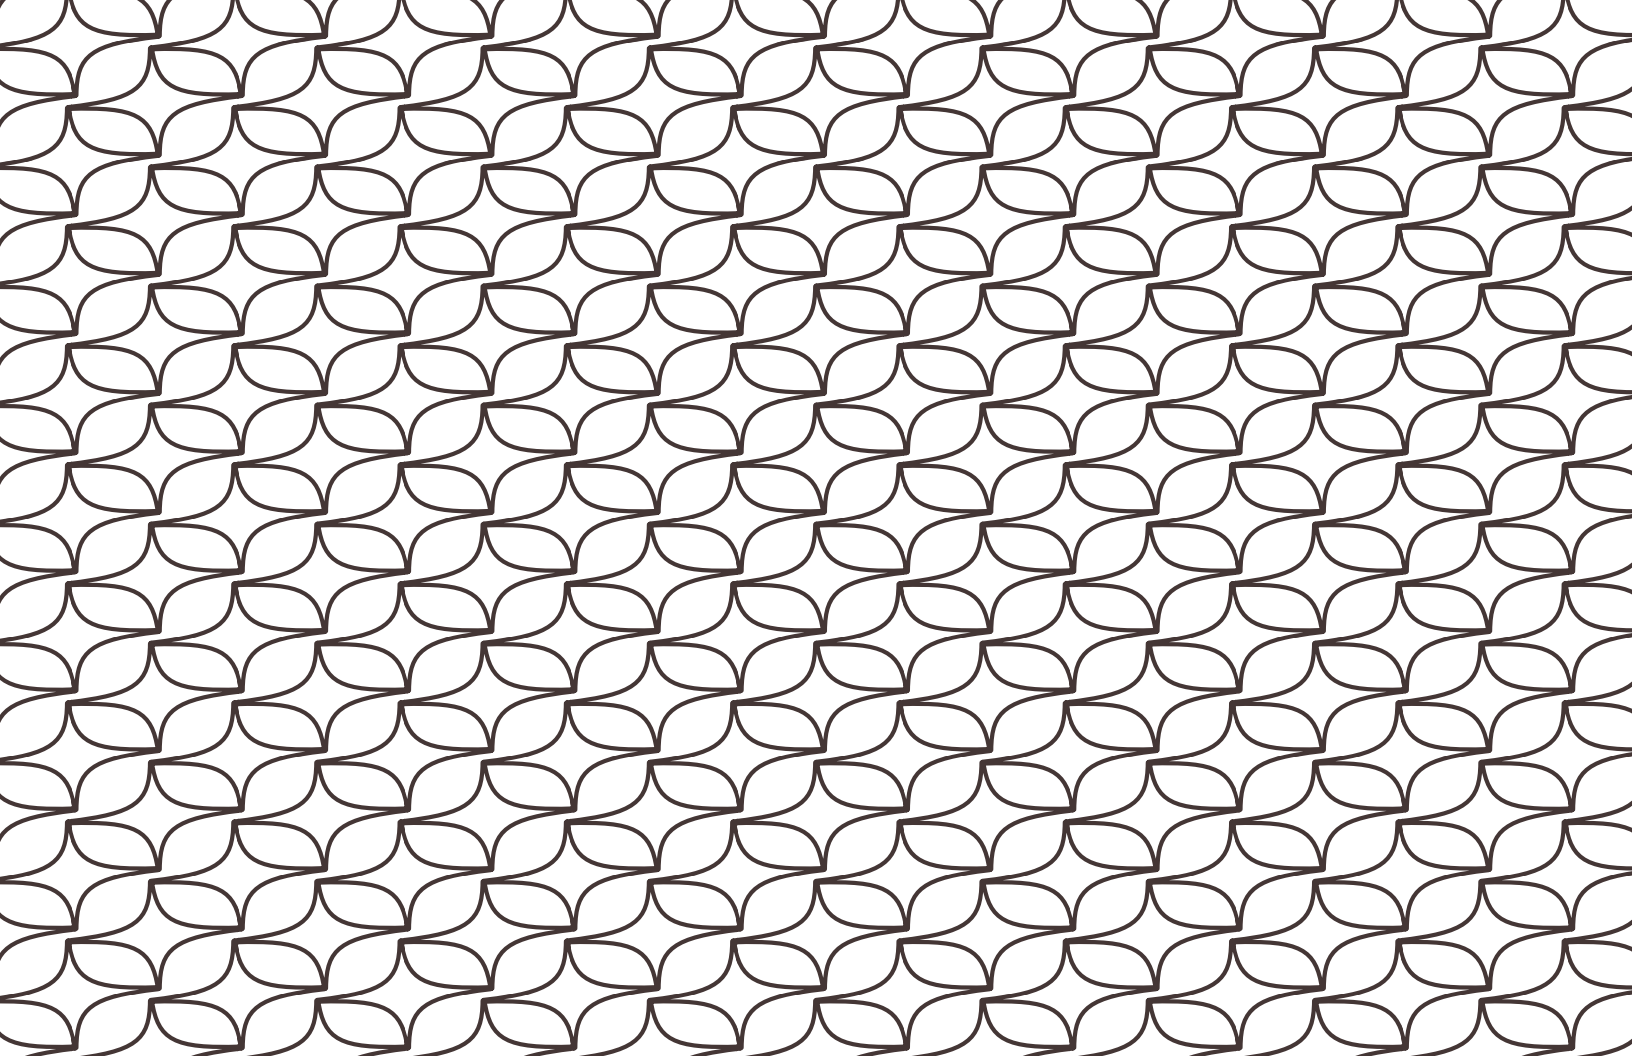

Among the many reasons to use a personal shopper and stylist are:

- ◇ Increases confidence and the sense of security that comes from working with an objective and experienced professional
- ◇ Reduces anxiety over what to buy and wear
- ◇ Saves time and money by eliminating buying mistakes
- ◇ Clarifies and balances needs, desires and indulgences

(Also, it's Fun!)

Ramona works by appointment.

She works with numerous resources to bring a wide variety of looks and brands together. From her wide-ranging travels she has gathered - exclusively for her clients - many special items not found anywhere else in the U.S.

In addition, her private label designs are tongue-in-cheek fun and comfortable.

Some of the services offered include:

- ◇ Fresh Start wardrobe organization and analysis
- ◇ Personal regional shopping excursions
- ◇ Gift Certificates for a service — a unique gift!

TESTIMONIAL

Over a 30-year career as a woman business owner, I have benefitted from Mona's caring and insightful expertise for wardrobe styling and shopping expertise. She chooses the best designs for me that fit casual, professional or formal occasions. As a former store owner in Miami and as a personal shopper, she knows how to find the best quality, price and styles. Mona loves what she does and it shows by the results she produces whether you are enhancing or starting your wardrobe.

I recommend her 100%!

Kiki, Vermont

I was truly delighted to learn that Mona Bryan is returning to fashion with her personal consulting and sourcing service. When I was building my practice, I relied on her completely and her Strictly Business store for clothes that were professional, comfortable and stylish. Because of the quality and classic lines, I still have some of her original pieces — decades later! I cannot wait to work with her again.

My wardrobe needs her!

Leslie, Miami, Florida

I love vibrant colors, but I've never been able to translate my love of color into my wardrobe. My entire career has been in finance, which resulted in years of a wardrobe built around combinations of black, gray and navy with zero - and I mean zero - clue how to accessorize. I perpetually looked like I was in mourning. I loved the ease but hated the look. Over the last seven years I had put on weight. Mona Bryan stepped in at just the right time. I had already begun losing weight and improving my health when I asked Mona for help. The garments and accessories she chose for me made me feel like a million bucks!

Mona's love of various cultures and their many aesthetic contributions have given her a unique vision. She not only showed me how to coordinate and accessorize various colors, but also understood what styles would best compliment my shape and skin/hair combination. Most importantly, she made the whole experience fun! She was encouraging but honest. End result? I have never gotten more compliments on my wardrobe. Feeling good about the way I look has given me more confidence to continue my journey for a healthier, more energetic me. In short, to pursue a better version of myself.
